       7.5.2. Expected Results
1) Each accredited POS should be able to connect to an E-SDC or V-SDC and issue a fiscal invoice. Accredited POSes are developed for different platforms, designed to use a variety of communication standards to connect to other software or hardware components. As wide acceptance and low cost of integration are crucial for successful fiscalisation, the Service is dedicated to providing detailed integration instructions for all manufacturers and software developers (suppliers).

This Guideline is the technical guideline for activation of accredited POSes and integration with an E-SDC or V-SDC service. This Guideline sets standards that will enable seamless integration of accredited POSes with the V-SDC that is part of the Service’s system.

2) In this Guideline—

ERP means the enterprise resource planning software system that enables the integration of a POS with other systems operated by a taxpayer such as an accounting system;

QR code means a Quick Response code, which is a matrix barcode that is easily read with a device equipped with a bar code reader; and verification URL means the unified resource location used to verify a particular fiscal invoice.

3)
This Guideline describes high level requirements for an accredited POS for all possible scenarios.

3.1. Connected Scenarios

The simplest scenario is software application (taxpayer) creates receipts, designates taxes and calls V-SDC web service to fiscalise invoices. V-SDC authenticates caller (verifies taxpayer digital certificate), performs initial validation, calculates taxes, signs receipt and returns response to a taxpayer.

A response consists of digital signature of receipt or invoice data, internal data field containing an encrypted message to the Service, digital certificate metadata, textual representation of fiscal invoice and verification URL.

The taxpayer has to generate QR code from verification URL and print textual representation of fiscal invoice and QR code. In case fiscal invoice is delivered in electronic form, verification URL should be rendered as ‘clickable’ hyperlink in email or web page.

Advantages

1. Does not require specialised hardware.
2. Accredited POS can be implemented as mobile application.
3. Existing ERPs can integrate quickly.
4. Cost of fiscalisation is reduced.

Disadvantages

1. Internet connection is required to issue fiscal invoice.

3.2. Semi-Connected Scenarios

Semi-Connected systems are designed around E-SDCs to fiscalise receipts while internet connection is not available for short or long periods of time. Some E-SDCs could be designed to work offline all the time.

In order to fiscalise a receipt in semi-connected or disconnected mode, an E-SDC receives a receipt from an accredited POS, prepares it for signing and submits the same to the secure element (implemented as smart card containing digital certificate and special applet). The secure element returns signature and internal data to the E-SDC, the E-SDC adds metadata and creates textual representation of a fiscal invoice and returns it to the accredited POS.

As in the connected scenario, a response consists of digital signature of receipt or invoice data, internal data field containing an encrypted message to the tax authority, digital certificate metadata, textual representation of the fiscal invoice and verification URL.
A taxpayer has to generate QR code from verification URL and print textual representation of the fiscal invoice and QR code. In case the fiscal invoice is delivered in electronic form, verification URL should be rendered as ‘clickable’ hyperlink in email or web page.

The E-SDC will automatically take care of audit data delivery to the Service when the device comes online or manually, using SD cards or USB Flashes.

Advantages

1. Works without internet connection.

Disadvantages

1. Requires specialised hardware.
2. Prone to physical destruction.
3. Requires network of maintenance shops.

4) The Service will setup and run development environment accessible to all developers of accredited POS and E-SDC components. Development environment has to expose same application programming interfaces and protocols as production environment.

5) Everyone who registers as a software developer of an accredited POS on the Service website should receive a set of test certificates, technical documentation and user manual. Test certificates should make possible to test failing scenarios like trying to fiscalise a receipt with an expired certificate.

6) A fiscal invoice consists of two parts. The first part (Invoice Request) is created by an accredited POS and contains the information specified in regulation 12(2)(a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j) and other industry specific information. An invoice request is then submitted by the accredited POS using protocol for communication to V-SDC or E-SDC, depending on implementation specifics of an accredited POS system and targeted audience.

The second part (Invoice response) is generated by V-SDC or E-SDC after data validation. A response contains the information specified in regulation 12(2)(k), (l), (m), (n) and (o). V-SDC or E-SDC returns response data to the accredited POS. Response data is an integral part of a fiscal invoice, and a receipt cannot be a fiscal invoice without it.

7) 7.1 Issue of Fiscal Invoice for a Normal Receipt

A receipt and fiscal invoice must contain visible markings indicating receipt type “NORMAL”.

7.1.1. Steps
Cashier on an accredited POS selects the NORMAL type of receipt, and registers sale by: typing items, selecting items from previously made list or scanning with a bar code reader. At the end, cashier is choosing way of payment and finishing receipt.

An accredited POS is sending message to V-SDC or E-SDC. After positive invoice data verification, receipt is digitally signed, counters and totals are updated and internal data is finished.

V-SDS or E-SDC is sending back a fiscal invoice response to an accredited POS.

A fiscal invoice is issued to the customer.

7.1.2. Expected Results

A fiscal invoice is the final result of this process and can be printed or sent by SMS or email message if a customer requests it. A normal receipt is digitally signed. Internal data is stored in the data base of the Service’s system. Internal data is shown at the end of the fiscal invoice in the form of a QR code. The invoice counter is in the form 5/7NS (5-number of normal receipts/ 7-total number of receipts issued by E-SDC or V-SDC, NS — designation of normal receipt.)

7.2. Issue of Fiscal Invoice for a Refund Receipt

A receipt and fiscal invoice must contain visible markings indicating “REFUND”.

The totals on refund receipts and fiscal invoices are negative, starting with “-”.

7.2.1. Steps

Cashier on an accredited POS is selecting refund type of receipt, registering sale by: typing items, selecting items from previously made list or scanning with a bar code reader. At the end, cashier is choosing way of payment and finishing receipt.

An accredited POS is sending message to V-SDC or E-SDC. After positive invoice data verification, receipt is digitally signed, counters and totals are updated and internal data is finished.

V-SDS or E-SDC is sending back a fiscal invoice response to an accredited POS.

A fiscal invoice is issued to the customer.

7.2.2. Expected Results

A fiscal invoice is the final result of this procedure and can be printed or sent by SMS or email message if the customer is asking for it. A receipt for refund is digitally signed. Internal data is stored in the data base of the Service’s system. Internal data is present on the end of the fiscal invoice in the form of a QR code. A fiscal invoice counter is in the form 5/7NR (5-number of normal receipts for refunds/7-total number of receipts issued by E-SDC or V-SDC, NR — designation of normal receipt for refund).

7.3. Issue of Fiscal Invoice for a Copy Receipt
Receipts and fiscal invoices must contain visible markings indicating the receipt type “COPY”.

7.3.1. Steps

(a) Cashier on an accredited POS is selecting copy type of receipt. Depending on the implementation method, an accredited POS may offer to select already issued receipt from the journal memory or recall receipt number. At the end, cashier is choosing the selected receipt and producing a copy of it.

(b) An accredited POS is sending message to V-SDC or E-SDC. After positive invoice data verification, a receipt is digitally signed, counters are updated.

(c) V-SDC or E-SDC is sending back a fiscal invoice response to an accredited POS.

(d) A copy of a fiscal invoice is issued to the customer.

7.3.2. Expected Results

A copy of already issued fiscal invoice is the final result of this procedure. A fiscal invoice counter is in the form 1/9 CS (1-number of copies of normal receipts/9-total number of receipts issued by E-SDC or V-SDC, CS — designation of copy of normal receipt).

7.4. Issue of Fiscal Invoice for a Training or Pro-forma Receipt

Receipts and fiscal invoices must contain visible markings indicating the receipt type “TRAINING” or “PRO-FORMA”.

Training or pro-forma receipts and fiscal invoices are produced in the same way as normal receipts and fiscal invoices, with an exception that totals are not accounted for.

7.4.1. Steps

(a) Cashier on an accredited POS is selecting Training or Pro-forma type of the receipt, is registering sale by: typing items, selecting items from previously made list or scanning with a bar code reader. At the end, cashier is choosing way of payment and finishing receipt.

(b) An accredited POS is sending message to V-SDC or E-SDC. After positive invoice data verification, a receipt is digitally signed and counters are updated.

(c) VSDS or E-SDC is sending back a fiscal invoice response to an accredited POS.

(d) A fiscal invoice is issued.

7.4.2. Expected Results

Training or pro-forma fiscal invoice is the final result of this procedure. A fiscal invoice counter is in the form 3/8TS (3-number of receipts for training or pro-forma receipts/8-total number of receipts issued by E-SDC or V-SDC, TS— designation of receipts for training or pro-forma receipts).
7.5. Issue of Fiscal Invoice for Normal or Refund Receipt for a Business to Business Transaction

A receipt and fiscal invoice must contain visible markings of receipt type “NORMAL”, or “REFUND”.

Receipts and fiscal invoices contain business customer data, name and TIN.

7.5.1. Steps

(a) Cashier on an accredited POS is selecting receipt type, is asking customer for and inputting provided TIN, is registering sale by: typing items, selecting items from previously made list or scanning with a bar code reader. At the end, cashier is choosing way of payment and finishing receipt.

(b) An accredited POS is sending message to V-SDC or E-SDC. After positive invoice data verification, a receipt is digitally signed, counters and totals are updated and internal data is finished.

(c) VSDS or E-SDC is sending back a fiscal invoice response to an accredited POS.

(d) A fiscal invoice is issued to the customer.

7.5.2. Expected Results

A fiscal invoice is the final result of this procedure and can be printed or sent by SMS or email message if the customer is asking for it. A normal or refund receipt is digitally signed. Internal data is stored in the database of the Service’s system. Internal data is shown at the end of the fiscal invoice in the form of a QR code. A receipt counter is in the form 5/7NS or NR number of normal receipts or normal receipts for refunds/7-total number of receipts issued by E-SDC or V-SDC, NS or NR — designation of normal receipt or normal receipt for refund).

1) This Guideline is the technical guideline for implementing E-SDCs. This Guideline sets standards that will enable simple integration of accredited E-SDCs with the Service’s system.

V-SDC is a web service published and maintained by the CEO and it represents an integral part of the Service’s system. E-SDC is a device provided by an accredited supplier.

E-SDCs must comply with the protocols.

2.1. Accredited POS

An accredited POS is responsible for submitting transaction data on receipts to E-SDC for fiscalisation and for printing fiscal invoices received from the SDC.

When the E-SDC is restarted, the user is required to enter the PIN code to authorise E-SDC to access the secure element.

2.2. E-SDC

High-Level Requirements are:

1. An E-SDC will sign a receipt only if the previous receipt is signed by the same digital certificate unless—
   - the last operation was local or remote audit; or
   - the E-SDC memory is empty — no receipts have been signed by this device since the beginning of an audit operation.

2. The E-SDC will submit proof of audit that will be generated by the Service’s system to the secure element to reset maximum invoice amount counter to zero as soon as the E-SDC receives that piece of information as web response in case of remote audit or from a SD card in case of a local audit.

3. The E-SDC will process all commands received from the Service’s system in a consecutive order. These commands might include time synchronisation, locking of the device and so forth.

4. The E-SDC does not have to keep audit data that is submitted and successfully stored on the Service’s system.

5. The E-SDC encrypts audit data and stores it locally in an encrypted form.

6. The E-SDC is required to keep audit data locally until proof of audit has been received from the Service’s system that the audit data has been securely stored on the Service’s system.

7. The E-SDC should not store the secure element’s PIN Code except in the working memory. Once the E-SDC is restarted, the cashier will be required to enter the PIN Code again.
2.3. Fiscalisation of Normal Receipt

Processes are:

1) the accredited POS generates a receipt;
2) the accredited POS sends the receipt and journal template to E-SDC;
3) the E-SDC verifies the format of the receipt;
4) the E-SDC verifies if tax calculation is correct based on applied tax rates;
5) the E-SDC sends the receipt to the secure element for fiscalisation providing current date and time and PIN code/password for digital certificate;
6) the secure element verifies if all amounts are positive numbers;
7) the secure element calculates internal data and encrypts it with the Service’s system public key;
8) the secure element signs the receipt;
9) the E-SDC produces a journal file;
10) the E-SDC stores the receipt with signature and journal in one package, generates one-time key and encrypts a package using symmetric algorithm. The E-SDC encrypts one-time symmetric key using the Service’s system public key and adds it to the package so that the Service’s system can decrypt symmetric key and access package content once it arrives on the Service’s system.

2.4. Dump Audit Data Kept on E-SDC when Secure Element is Damaged

If the secure element is damaged and data cannot be restored from the card, but the E-SDC is operational, the Service will be able to dump data from E-SDC device and upload audit data using the same application used to upload audit data submitted by a taxpayer.

2.5. E-SDC Process Commands Sent from Service’s Systems

Commands are means of communication between the Service’s system and occasionally connected E-SDC. Commands are stacked in the queue list on the server for specific E-SDC and submitted to the E-SDC as part of the response once it reports to the Service’s system using remote or local audit.

2.5.1. Synchronisation of E-SDC Clock Online

The E-SDC will check the time server specified in configuration and keep internal clock in sync.

2.5.2. Lock/Unlock Card

1. Lock/Unlock command is issued by the Service’s system in case the CEO suspects that illegal activities are carried out by the taxpayer or in case the secure element has to be disabled due to the outstanding debt to supplier.

2. Content of command is verified by the secure element and the state is changed accordingly.

3. If the secure element is locked, no new receipts of any type may be signed by the secure element.

2.5.3. Update Maximum Allowed Sum of Fiscal Invoice Amounts

1. Maximum allowed sum of fiscal invoice amounts limit is set by the Service’s system on the secure element during personalisation for a particular taxpayer or during exploitation if for any reason that limit has to be increased or decreased by the Service.

2. Content of command is verified by the secure element and the limit is changed to the new value. Once new value is applied, all new fiscal invoices are verified against the new limit. Changing this value on the fly has the same technical implications.

2.5.4. Apply New Tax Rates

The E-SDC has to prevent fiscalisation of receipts with invalid tax rates.

The E-SDC will keep current and all new tax rates (with effective dates) in memory.

2.6. E-SDC

This paragraph describes specifics of an E-SDC.

An E-SDC can work in the following modes:

2.6.1 Offline
In the offline mode, the secure element signs a receipt and the E-SDC device stores it locally in a secure manner.

2.6.2 Semi-offline

In the semi-offline mode, the secure element signs a receipt and the E-SDC device will immediately try to contact the Service’s system and perform remote audit. If the Service’s system is not accessible, the E-SDC will switch to offline mode.

2.7. Authentication

Authentication against the Service’s system is performed using taxpayer digital certificate.

3)

3.1. Service’s System Issues Secure Element to Taxpayer

1) A taxpayer’s digital certificate is stored on the secure element.
2) The secure element is stored on the smart card.
3) The PIN or Password is generated and printed on PIN mailer.
4) The secure element and PIN code are securely delivered to taxpayer.

4.1. Acquisition of Test Digital Certificate

The Service will issue the required number of test digital certificates to each accredited supplier and each accredited taxpayer.

5)

5.1. Unique Identification of Fiscal Invoice

A fiscal invoice is uniquely identified with the combination of the receipt ordinal number and the secure element identification number.

5.2. Elements

This paragraph defines the minimum set of attributes required to produce a fiscal invoice.

A fiscal invoice may contain additional data as required by a specific industry.
1) A fiscal invoice consists of two parts produced by an accredited POS and associated secure element.

2) An accredited POS submits the information specified in regulation 12(2)(a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j) to the V-SDC or E-SDC.

3) The V-SDC or E-SDC returns the response data to the POS which contains the additional information specified in regulation 12(2)(k), (l), (m), (n) and (o).

5.3. Signature

Fiscalisation of a receipt is a process of applying digital signature by the secure element on the electronic content of the receipt.

5.4. Internal Data

Internal data contains fiscal data in encrypted form. Content of internal data is readable by the Service only.

5.5. QR Code

QR code contains URL of verification service used to verify the authenticity of the fiscal invoice for customer convenience.

6) Audit data represents machine readable formatted fiscal invoice signed by a taxpayer’s private key followed by journal data — textual representation of a fiscal invoice generated by an E-SDC.

Content of audit data is kept in encrypted form that makes sure no changes have been made and that no one was able to access its content after creation except the CEO (and the Service’s system) after successful audit.

Each package of audit data has associated metadata — ordinal number of package. It is used to track order and make sure audit data is submitted in the consecutive order.

6.1. Encryption of Audit Data

Encryption of audit data prevents access to sales data by unauthorised persons and enables addition of fiscal lottery to the Service’s system in the future. The only one who can decrypt audit data is the Service’s system software running on the Service premises and by the CEO only.

6.2. Proof of Audit

Proof of audit is generated by the Service’s system once audit data has been received and securely stored on the Service’s system.
Minimum information contained in proof of audit must ensure that proof of audit can be used only by the secure element which signed receipts that are contained in the audit data received by the Service’s system.

6.3. Audit Process

An audit is a process of sequential transfer of audit data from an E-SDC to the Service’s system and handling the response generated by the Service’s system for the specific device.

There are three specific scenarios: remote audit, local audit initiated by a taxpayer and local audit initiated by the Service. Basic rules and processes described in this paragraph apply to all scenarios.

An audit is always a synchronous process. Depending on the amount of data and means of communication, it can take from less than a second to a couple of hours or even days to complete.

6.4. SD Card or USB Flash Memory Stick

SD cards or USB memory stick are used as transport mechanism instead of internet connection in cases of local audits initiated by a taxpayer or by the Service. In any case, the carrier has to be empty for an E-SDC to initiate dumping of audit data.

Once the E-SDC receives audit data (signed receipt and journal) from the secure element, it is encrypted and stored in the permanent memory (hard drive, flash or internal SD card).

An E-SDC device is fully functional during audit. The taxpayer must be able to sign new receipts as long as the secure element permits. There is a mechanism in place that is responsible for continuous operation of the secure element and E-SDC while audit data is on its way to the Service’s system.

Depending on the connection availability audit may be triggered by the arrival of a signed receipt from the secure element or insertion of an external memory device into the E-SDC. No matter which event triggered the audit, the following conversation will take place between the E-SDC, the Service’s system and the secure element:

1) the E-SDC signals the beginning of the audit to the secure element;
2) the secure element returns token to the E-SDC;
3) the E-SDC starts sending (by HTTPS) or dumping on external memory (SD card, USB flash) audit data starting with the oldest unaudited package in piecemeal fashion. A token is sent to the Service’s system using the same communication channel;
4) the Service’s system receives audit data, decrypts packages and does a basic verification;
5) if verification is successful, the Service’s system will generate proof of audit and return it using the same transport channel;
6) the E-SDC receives proof of audit and passes it to secure the element;
7) the secure element verifies if proof of audit is signed by the Service’s system private key, which ensures that audit data has been successfully received by the Service’s system;
8) if proof of audit is valid, the secure element will conclude audit process;
9) the E-SDC stores proof of audit in its long-term memory. Consequently—
   i. audit data created before beginning of audit is considered safe for deleting because it has been received by the Service’s system;
   ii. audit data created after beginning of audit is considered unaudited and E-SDC is responsible to preserve this audit data unit which is submitted to the Service’s system in the next audit;
   iii. audit data created after end of audit is considered unaudited and E-SDC is responsible to preserve this audit data unit which is submitted to the Service’s system in the next audit.

6.5 Remote Audit

Remote audit is the process of transferring data to the Service’s system using internet connection. It is the most common way to perform audit for any occasionally connected device.

An E-SDC checks if the Service’s system is online. If it is online, the E-SDC authenticates the Service’s system by using server-side certificate installed on the API endpoint, enabling HTTPS protocol. The Service’s system authenticates the E-SDC using digital certificate issued on the secure element. The E-SDC starts sending audit data in small chunks, performing a series of audits until no more unaudited data is stored on its long-term memory.

Not all E-SDC devices are required to perform remote audit. In cases where the network connection is not available due to the interruption of the service or missing GPRS modem or network card, the E-SDC will still be able to perform Local Audit.

6.6. Local Audit Initiated by Taxpayer

Local audit initiated by a taxpayer is a common scenario for devices that lack ability to connect to internet due to the technical limitations of the devices or limited infrastructure.

An audit is initiated by attaching an empty SD card or USB Flash to E-SDC device. An E-SDC will verify if media is empty. If not, the E-SDC will signal error to the user.

6.7. Submitting Data in Service Office

The CEO can upload data using specific application that will store deleted audit data from media and save proof of audit generated by the Service’s system to media once audit data has been received.

6.8. Submitting Data Using Web Application

Anyone should be able to upload limited amount of audit data (for example, up to 30Mb) using web site. The Service’s system will verify received audit data and generate proof of audit as a response. A user will be required to manually delete audit data from media and save received proof of audit for later use.
6.9. Completing Audit in Progress

A taxpayer inserts media with proof of audit file on it. An E-SDC loads proof of audit and verifies if the format is valid. If the format is valid, proof of audit is sent to the secure element for processing.

If the format is invalid or the E-SDC and the secure element cannot process proof of audit for any reason, the E-SDC signals error message to the operator.

6.10. Local Audit Initiated by Service

Local Audit initiated by the CEO is required when the taxpayer is not reporting transactions for any reason. If an E-SDC and the secure element are operational, the CEO will dump data using the same scenario as the taxpayer.
1) This Guideline is the technical guideline for accreditation of a POS or E-SDC. The CEO accredits the brand, model and specification of each POS or E-SDC supplied by a supplier. The CEO accredits each POS and E-SDC of an EFD developed, installed and implemented by a taxpayer. This is done to ensure that EFDs for taxpayers’ businesses are operating in accordance with these Regulations.

2) In this Guideline—

Application means an application for accreditation under regulation 8 or 9;

Applicant means a supplier or taxpayer who makes an application.

3) The evaluation process commences when the CEO receives an application for accreditation of a POS or E-SDC.

The evaluation process consists of an administrative review and a technical review of the working processes of the applicant’s POS and E-SDC together as an EFD or a POS or E-SDC as a separate component.

The CEO evaluates the POS or E-SDC by testing the applicant’s internal procedures. The purpose is to check that the applicant is complying with all administrative and technical requirements and to test and verify all deliverables.

The CEO evaluates documentation by cross-examining functionality stated in the user manual and other documentation to ensure described implemented functions.

The technical review identifies whether there are any of the following type of issues:
1) Non-compliance: represents a deviation of the expected output, and must be solved by the applicant;
2) Bug: represents a failure, flow or fault in software that produces incorrect or unexpected results, and must be solved by the applicant;
3) Doubt: represents uncertainty due to misinterpretation and is resolved by investigation and clarification by the applicant;
4) Observation: represents minor faults, mainly in documentation or sample appearance; these issues shall contain sub-class mandatory or voluntary which will reflect the applicant’s level of obligation to solve;
5) Improvement: represents proposal to improve functionality, which the applicant may solve or not.

The CEO writes test reports about technical review findings and specifies issues.

All issues that are non-compliance, bugs, doubts and observations with mandatory sub-class must be solved before accreditation is granted.

The applicant responds to each issue identified by preparing and finalising deliverables for resolving the issue and updating the testing report with answer and version number. Example is:

File name: “Testing report EFD01_15 ver.1.doc” containing history of revisions and description of the issue number 15 of application ID EFD01 shall be returned to the same address from which it has been received after being saved by the applicant as file name: “Testing report EFD01_15 ver.2.doc” containing updated history of revisions and answer on the evaluation issue. This upgrading of version number shall be continuous until the issue number 15 is resolved.

Communication between the CEO and applicant is open, honest and co-operative in dealing with each issue.

Possible difficulties arising during the evaluation process are:

1) the applicant’s delays preparing the required deliverables for resolving issues identified during the evaluation process;
2) necessity for numerous testing reports containing problems and questions which are found during evaluation;
3) misinterpretation of the requirements.

The CEO may allow the applicant additional time to respond to issues and finalise deliverables.

4) When the issues are resolved and finalised to the satisfaction of the CEO and applicant, the CEO writes the accreditation report describing the evaluation process and the outcome of the process and making recommendation for or against accreditation.
If the outcome of the evaluation process indicates that the applicant’s administrative and technical processes comply with these Regulations, the CEO accredits the POS or E-SDC.

The CEO refuses to accredit the applicant if applicant is unable to prepare and finalise deliverables for resolving issues identified during the evaluation process with the effect that the applicant’s administrative and technical processes do not comply with these Regulations.
